Wrapped In DPF 390 with Series 3310

► Premium Polyurethane Overlaminates

Multi-Purpose Protection,
Long Lasting Durability

Series 3310 overlaminates is a premium polyurethane protective film available in a high gloss finish to help customize your graphics. Designed to protect and prolong the life of printed images, Series 3310 can be used on digitally printed PVC media and flexible substrates. Series 3310 offers improved clarity, superior conformability and better durability above PVC overlaminates and can be matched up with Arlon's print media films to produce vibrant graphics.
